In this unit, students will explore how geography impacts readers’ access to books. All instruction in this unit builds toward the final performance task for the module: an informative “Accessing Books around the World” bookmark. In the first part of the unit, students will read informational texts about world geography as they build vocabulary and understanding related to physical features and how physical characteristics of a region influence how people access books. Students then will explore external resources that support the power of reading, focusing on the important role of libraries.

Using the central text, My Librarian Is a Camel, students will read about less conventional ways to access texts and the heroic lengths librarians and community members make in order to help others build this power. Students will read about and gather details about one of the countries represented in My Librarian Is a Camel and write an informative paragraph that describes how readers in that country access books. In the On-Demand Mid-Unit 3 Assessment, students will read a new excerpt from My Librarian Is a Camel and answer a series of text-dependent questions. They will then draw on this research in order to create their Accessing Books around the World bookmark. The creation of these bookmarks will be supported by the writing process, with a focus on producing writing in which the development and organization are appropriate to task and purpose. Students will have opportunities for critique and revision, culminating in the opportunity to publish and share the bookmarks with readers in their school or local library. (Word processing the bookmark text is encouraged, but not required.) After students have completed their bookmark, they will complete an On-Demand End of Unit 3 Assessment in which they write a paragraph about a different librarian from My Librarian Is a Camel.

Guiding Questions And Big Ideas

- How do people around the world access reading and books?
- How does reading give us power?
- People overcome great challenges in order to access books.
- Readers can learn about different cultures (people and places) through a variety of texts.

Answering Text-Dependent Questions about Librarians and Organizations around the World

This assessment centers on standard NYSP12 ELA CCLS RI.3.2, RI. 3.1, W.3.8, and SL.3.1. In this assessment, students will read an unfamiliar passage about librarians or organizations that go to great lengths to bring reading to people. Students will use the same close reading routine they practiced during My Librarian Is a Camel: reading to get to know the text, reading for the main idea and unfamiliar vocabulary, reading to take notes, and reading to answer a series of text-dependent questions.

Content Connections

This module is designed to address English Language Arts standards. However, the module intentionally incorporates Social Studies content that many teachers may be teaching during other parts of the day. These intentional connections are described below.

NYS Social Studies Core Curriculum

- World Geography
- Maps/globes
- All people in world communities need to learn, and they gain knowledge in similar and different ways.
- Physical characteristics of a region strongly influence the culture and lifestyle of the people who live there.

Central Texts

Online Resources

- Spanish language newscast about the publication of Waiting for the Biblioburro and the story behind it, www.youtube.com/watch?v=5Y2zzBs-YQs, 1 min. 12 sec. (last accessed June 19, 2012).
This unit is approximately 3-5 weeks or 17 sessions of instruction.
