

Pre-Design Questions and Considerations

Before you begin plan, consider the following:

Text Selection Considerations

1. What is the role of informational text in high school ELA?
2. What is the role of literature in high school ELA?

Student Learner Considerations: Questions to consider and address every step of the way

1. Where are your students' abilities now, and what do they have to work on the most?
2. How do you build students' knowledge if there are gaps?
3. How do you ensure that students still have the opportunity to analyze and form claims about grade-level complex text if there are reading skill deficits?
4. How do you ensure that students still have the opportunity to develop analysis and argumentation in writing if there are skill gaps?
5. How do you grow students' vocabulary if there are gaps?

Text Selection Considerations

1. What is the role of informational text in high school ELA?
2. What is the role of literature in high school ELA?

Student Learner Considerations: Questions to consider and address every step of the way

1. Where are your students' abilities now, and what do they have to work on the most?
2. How do you build students' knowledge if there are gaps?
3. How do you ensure that students still have the opportunity to analyze and form claims about grade-level complex text if there are reading skill deficits?
4. How do you ensure that students still have the opportunity to develop analysis and argumentation in writing if there are skill gaps?
5. How do you grow students' vocabulary if there are gaps?