Presidents and American Symbols
Tell It Again!™ Flip Book
Tell It Again! Flip Book Introduction

This Tell It Again! Flip Book contains images that accompany the Tell It Again! Read-Aloud Anthology for Presidents and American Symbols. The images are in sequential order. Each image is identified by its lesson number, read-aloud letter (A or B), and the number of the image within the particular read-aloud. For example, the first image in Read-Aloud 1A is numbered 1A-1. Once you have worked your way through the book to the last page, you will flip the entire book over to view the second half of the images.

Depending on your classroom configuration, you may need to have students sit closer to the flip book in order to see the images clearly.
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

These materials are the result of the work, advice, and encouragement of numerous individuals over many years. Some of those singled out here already know the depth of our gratitude; others may be surprised to find themselves thanked publicly for help they gave quietly and generously for the sake of the enterprise alone. To helpers named and unnamed we are deeply grateful.

In Congress, July 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the Course of human Events, it becomes necessary for one People to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the Powers of the Earth, the separate and equal Station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent Respect to the Opinions of Mankind requires that they should declare the cause for which theySequential...

The poster(s) in this Tell It Again! Flip Book may be cut out and displayed on the classroom wall for the duration of the domain.
The end of this time has arrived. The Union of foreign Mercenaries is complete. France and her allies have joined in a common cause. The American people, who have always been willing to fight for their freedom, are now ready to take up arms.

We, the Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, do, in the Name and by Authority of the good People of these States, solemnly publish and declare, that they are absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political Band, Union or Association with them is now and forever dissolved. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm resolve and a true honor,
